Dear Parents,

Thank you to all of you for attending the Parent Evening discussions this week. I'm certain that there were many reasons for you to feel proud of your child's achievements.

We have had a busy time within school these last few days too. The focus of the children's attention has been on Art Week, with lots of painting, textile work and modelling taking place. The results of all this creativity will be presented in our school hall and throughout the school. You're very welcome to come in early next term to admire the finished displays.

Just some of the great work produced during Art Week.

Starting The School Day

Thank you for helping us encourage the children to wait until 8:50 before entering the school building.

The whistle blows at that time signalling the time to line up in preparation for the day ahead.

As a school we have always taken responsibility for the children (while on the playground) from 8:40 onwards. We will continue to do so.

We are also committed to making ourselves available to the needs of yourselves, our parents. Our teaching staff will always make the time necessary to discuss your concerns, I will as Head Teacher too.

If you have a matter that you need to share with your child's teacher at the start of the day, you can either share it with them at the 8:50 line-up (if it's little more than a quick word) or you can enter the school through the main entrance 5—10 minutes before.

We continue to value the close relationships with yourselves that I feel we share here at Brookside.

BFG Halloween Disco

Does anyone know the collective noun for a gaggle of witches?

Don't forget tomorrow, Friday 24th, is an INSET day.

Well done to the children for all the hard work this half term. I hope everyone has a thoroughly enjoyable autumn break and I look forward to seeing all the children back on Monday, 3rd November.

Thank you for your continuing support.
